ADD BOTH WETS AND DRY.
CHICAGO, April 4.—Important cities were won by both wets and dries in today's local option election. Majorities were not large in any case.

Moline and Waukegan voted to oust saloons while Bloomington and Lockport, after two years of prohibition voted for the return of saloons. Nearly all the other towns in which local option elections were held remained either wet or dry as they had been before. The largest city in this class was Rock Island.

The voting dry of Moline was a clear victory for the women, as the men rolled up a large majority in favor of retaining saloons. Men to the number of 3,658 voted for saloons, while 3,240 voted against liquor selling. Only 1,674 women voted for saloons.

The city of Waukegan, north of Chicago had furnished one of the few wet spots on the north shore of Lake Michigan in Illinois.

Women Vote Moline Dry.
Moline, Ill., April 4.—Moline today voted dry, women overcoming a wet majority of men. The women against saloons numbered 3,240 while those favoring liquor selling totaled 1,674. Men for saloons were 3,658; opposed, 2,430. The total majority against saloons was 338.

Decatur Dry by Big Majority.
Decatur, Ill., April 4.—Decatur voted dry by a majority of 1,564 today, the result proving a big surprise to both sides which had expected a much closer outcome. This is the first time that Decatur anti-saloon forces have been able to win twice in succession. A total of 18,596 votes were cast, more than 2,000 more than two years ago. The men's vote today was 15,177 wet, while the women voted 3,114 majority dry.

Results in other central Illinois cities in this vicinity were:

Decatur township, Macon county, remains dry, majority 1,594.

Mt. Pulaski, Logan county, becomes dry by 20.

Pesotum, Champaign county, dry by 51.

Taylorville, Christian county, dry by 194.

PLEAD FOR REFORMS IN PACKING INDUSTRY

STUEBS AND WALLACE INDOORSE BORLAND RESOLUTION

Suggest Making Laws Prohibiting Restraint of Trade in Food Stuffs Generally more Stringent—Urge Jail Sentences Instead of Fines.

Washington, April 4.—A former Kansas governor, W. B. Stubbs, and a former Missouri judge, W. H. Wallace, who said they had learned by raising cattle themselves that meat packers, by price-fixing combinations, were crushing livestock growers, pleaded with a house judiciary sub-committee today to aid in inaugurating reforms in the packing industry. They appeared as counsel for western growers and feeders.

Speaking on the Borland resolution now before the sub-committee which would order a federal trade commission inquiry to determine whether the packers are violating the anti-trust laws, they endorsed the proposal strongly and suggested making laws prohibiting the restraint of trade in foodstuffs generally more stringent.

Jail sentences instead of fines were particularly urged.

"Fines are jokes," Mr. Stubbs declared. "They are not effective. The producers and the customers pay the penalty. Any one who juggles with the prices of food when millions are struggling for bread should be imprisoned and not fined. Forty percent of the feed-lots in this country are empty because of present market conditions. Nearly every stockman now believes there is a packers' trust."

Mr. Wallace, who prosecuted the James train robbers, heatedly denounced the alleged packing combination.

"We are after a worse crowd now than the James Boys," he declared. "These fellows steal more money in a week than the James Boys did in their whole careers."

By affidavit and testimony as to his personal experiences, the judge sought to prove that combinations had existed among packers in the Kansas City yards within the last few years. He submitted an affidavit from Leo Burns, a former stock yard employee declaring the Kansas City and Chicago packing houses were in constant communication regarding proposed purchasers from speculators. An affidavit signed by Earl Cooper declared that before the packers came into possession of the Kansas City yards he used to visit the yards at night and supply them with information as to the number of livestock on hand prior to the opening of the market.

On one occasion, the judge asserted, he received only one bid on a bunch of cattle at the Kansas City yards and learned later that they were divided between two packing concerns.

Arthur, Meeker, vice-president of Armour & Co., questioned the accuracy of the judge's statement regarding one buyer for two houses. Walter L. Fisher, attorney for the American National Livestock association interjected the declaration that he would be able to prove that such a practice was not uncommon. Mr. Fisher produced a sales slip from the Kansas City yards which he declared showed that one buyer had purchased eighty six cattle from a raiser and that Morris & Co., and the Cudahy Packing company had divided them equally. The session was enlivened by Mr. Meeker over the proposal of the packers to submit the books to the department of agriculture to prove that they are not making an unfair profit and the counter-proposal of the producers that a tribunal with subpoena powers make the examination.

Once during the day Mr. Meeker declared that he was willing to have an inquisitorial body with subpoena powers conduct the examination but later he insisted on his original proposal of leaving the proposed investigation to the department of agriculture.

M. L. McClure of Kansas City president of the National Livestock Exchange testified that restricted competition was responsible for the failure of cattle raisers to make money.

The hearing will continue tomorrow when representatives of the packers are expected to present their side of the case.

GEN. CARRANZA AUTHORIZES PURCHASE OF PAPER MONEY

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—General Carranza today published a decree authorizing the secretary of the treasury to purchase paper money of the present issue to the value of $1,000,000 gold Mexican. The paper money is to be destroyed.

The efforts of the government are meeting with success. Many merchants have voluntarily lowered prices and the exchange rate on New York is improving hourly.

ARREST MICHAEL HEITLER ON CHARGE OF VIOLATING MANN ACT

Special Agents Say They Have Evidence to Show Heitler Was Head of a Ring of "White Slavers."

Chicago, April 4.—Michael Heitler, known to the police for years as "Mike the Pike," was arrested by federal agents today charged with violating the Mann act.

His arrest came as the climax of a year's work by special agents of the department of justice. It had been deferred until the present while search was made for David Rosenberg, to complete evidence which the special agents say they have against Heitler. Rosenberg was apprehended recently in New York.

Heitler is said to have transported many women in connection with disorderly houses in Chicago, Gary, Ind., Indianapolis and Burnham, Ill. Other arrests may follow as the special agents say they have evidence to show that Heitler was the head of a ring of "white slavers."

Richard Fleischner, arrested here a week ago, is alleged to have been one of Heitler's agents. He is under indictment at San Francisco charged with transporting Maggie Sanders from Kansas City to San Francisco.

BROWN'S CAVALRY DEFEATS BANDITS

Loss to Villistas is Estimated at 30 to 40 Killed

CAPTURE THIRTY HORSES

Information of Encounter is Obtained By Gen. Pershing and Forwarded to Gen. Funston

NO MENTION OF U. S. LOSS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 4.—Surprised during a siesta one of the groups of Villa's force driven from Guerrero, was defeated Saturday by a squadron of the Tenth Cavalry under Colonel W. C. Brown according to information obtained by General Pershing and forwarded by him to General Funston today. In this second engagement which the American troops have had with Villa's men the bandits' loss was estimated at from 30 to 40 killed. No mention of American loss was made.

Mexicans Report Fight.
Colonel Brown's encounter with the Mexicans had not been reported to General Pershing when he made his report, his information being gained from friendly Mexicans who had arrived at a point near Rubio, where Major Evans, of the Tenth Cavalry was halted yesterday.

Major Evans reported that on Saturday Colonel Brown encountered a band of Villa's men and was pursuing them thru San Antonio. Soon afterward Mexicans who arrived from that vicinity declared he had overtaken the bandits at Aguas Calientes, twenty miles southeast of Bachajana.

Villa's men were wholly unsuspecting of the presence of an enemy a minute before they were attacked.

It was about noon when Colonel Brown brought his cavalry within range. The Mexicans were lying about the place, many of them asleep and all their horses were grazing in many cases some distance from the men. Details of the action were not told but the Mexicans said the Americans captured about thirty head of horses. General Pershing added that his reports of the engagement lacked confirmation, tho his credence of the news was indicated by the fact that he had transmitted it to General Funston.

Effect Is Only Indirect
It was realized by army officers that the effect of Colonel Brown's fight and of other minor engagements which may occur is only indirect so far as the greater problem of catching Villa is concerned. Engagements of that character, it was said, may be expected now from time to time and the running down of the band is necessary for the safety of the American columns, but is indicated that the only effect so far as Villa is concerned will be to destroy the morale of his supporters.

Reveals News Gaily.
El Paso, Texas, April 4.—The news second defeat at the hands of the American troops this time at Aguas Calientes, thirty miles northeast of Guerrero was received here tonight in a sober manner compared with the elation over the first blow struck by Colonel Todd last Wednesday.

Confirmation of the news that Villa himself is far to the south approaching Parral, materially has lessened interest in the pursuit of the bandit and has diverted attention to the railroad problem which army officers here admit, rapidly is becoming acute. There is frank skepticism in army circles over General Pershing's ability to push much farther into Mexico without the aid of the railroads. It is pointed out that the number of men required to guard the present 300 miles or more of communication is out of all proportion to the total number of troops at General Pershing's disposal. Even if General Funston is able to get the reinforcements he has asked for, the problem will still be a most serious one. Word is awaited from Washington as to the outcome of the negotiations pending with General Carranza as it is felt that some solution must be found to the situation without any great delay.

To Execute Three Mexicans.
Three Mexicans convicted as the ring leaders of a Villista plot to overthrow the garrison and take possession of the town will be shot at dawn in Juarez tomorrow. The others concerned in the plot who number between 50 and 60 will be given a military trial later.

The men under sentence of death are Sebastian de la Cruz, Nicholas Chavarria, and Lorenzo Hernandez, de la Cruz is a Villista colonel who enlisted as a private in the Carranza army to act as a spy. Chavarria was former secretary to Pascual Orozco. Both he and Hernandez lived in Juarez as civilians.

It is stated that a number concerned in the affair are still at large in El Paso but the chief actors had been gathered in. The three convicted were arrested last Sunday, the day named for the outbreak.

DEMOCRATS SCORE HEAVILY IN ELECTION

ELECT TWENTY-ONE ALDERMEN IN CHICAGO

Only Three of the Thirteen Republicans Elected Bear the Thompson Label—Suicide of Dr. Sachs Is Used in a Measure by Anti-Thompson Men.

Chicago, April 4.—Democrats scored heavily in today's aldermanic elections in the thirty five wards of the city. A year ago the Democrats carried but seven wards and William Hale Thompson, Republican, was elected mayor by 147,477 majority. Today the Democrats carried twenty one wards, the Socialists one and the Republican but thirteen. There are thirty five hold-over aldermen, and with the line-up revised to date the Democrats came within four wards of wresting control of the city council from their rivals. Of the Republicans elected only three bore the Thompson label. The others belonged to the anti-Thompson faction in the city hall.

Issues involved were local and include Mayor Thompson's ambitions to succeed Roy O. West as Republican National committeeman to be determined next Tuesday.

Mayor Thompson was charged by his Republican opponents with ruthless use of the "spoils system" in an attempt to build up a personal machine.

The suicide of Dr. Theodor E. Sachs, president of the American Tuberculosis association and known as an expert on tuberculosis, came as a dramatic incident of the close election.

It was used in a measure by the anti-Thompson men.

Dr. Sachs, according to his friends was not a politician but had devoted his life to building up the Chicago Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium, of which he was for years the head. Recently an alleged political attack was made on him and he resigned. The mayor referred to him as "the worst appointment I have made."

Sunday morning Dr. Sachs was found dead, a suicide. He left a note to the public requesting that his conduct of the institution be investigated and that "spoilsmen be kept from interfering with an institution devoted to humanity."

FATE OF SENATE FEDERAL VOLUNTEER PLAN IN DOUBT

Senate Recesses After an All Day Debate Over an Amendment by Senator Lee of Maryland to Strike Out the Provision.

Washington, April 4.—The fate of the federal volunteer plan of the senate army increase bill was in doubt tonight when the senate recessed after an all day debate over an amendment by Senator Lee of Maryland to strike out the provision. At the last moment Chairman Chamberlain asked that the vote be deferred until tomorrow on account of the absence of a number of senators. Throughout the day conferences were held by both the advocates and opponents of the section, seeking to enlist support of senators who had not finally decided on their stand. Senator Lee was aided in his fight by Senator Lewis of Illinois while Chairman Chamberlain and his entire committee worked actively for their bill and conferred frequently with Republican senators. It is understood several senators changed their positions during the day.

The only vote taken was that which defeated the amendment offered by Senator Sterling of South Dakota, providing that the national guard should be first called on for service by the federal government in the event of war coming first after the regular army in order of precedence. There was no roll call. Senator Chairman Chamberlain pointed out that the existing law upon which the volunteer army proposal is founded already contained this stipulation.

SHERIFF WHEELER'S "LAW AND ORDER" TICKET IS ELECTED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 4.—Sheriff John A. Wheeler's "law and order" ticket of ten assistant supervisors for Capital township was elected here today after a bitter fight in which State's Attorney Edmund Burke made a campaign against the sheriff's methods of enforcing the Sunday saloon closing law, and closing the segregated district.

In the fight for election of three members of the board of education candidate who supported H. S. Magill's new high school program were elected by a three to one plurality. Springfield did not vote on the wet and dry question.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACK

Teutons Attempt to Press Farther South in Region of Douaumont

AUSTRIANS TAKE RIDGE

Zeppelin Air Raid is Made on England, the Fourth in as Many Days

DECLINES TO RELEASE MEN

An attempt by the Germans to press farther south against the French in the region of Douaumont, northeast of Verdun, has met with repulse and considerable losses. In the same sector, north of the Gallette wood, the French have continued their progress in driving back the Teutons.

The German attack south of Douaumont was launched against the French first lines of defense but the French raked the advancing Teutons with their curtain of fire, machine guns and infantry fire, forcing them to retreat in disorder northwest toward the Chaffour wood.

Attack on Hancourt Falls.
An attack by the Germans on the town of Hancourt northwest of Verdun also failed as likewise did an attempt to reach the French trenches near Seppois in the Vosges mountains. Elsewhere along the western front there have only been reciprocal bombardments and some minor activity on the line held by the British. On the Russian front the artillery activity of the Russians in the lake region southeast of Dvinsk has increased but in general no important changes in the position of the Russians and Germans have taken place.

The Austrians have occupied the border ridge between Lobbiaala and Monte Pamo, which was held by the Italians. Artillery duels are still in progress on the Dobord sector of the Col di Lana and in the Giudicaria Alps.

Another Zeppelin air raid was made on England Monday night, the fourth in as many days. Berlin says that fortifications near Yarmouth were attacked. A British official statement asserts that no casualties resulted and that no damage was done. In presenting the new budget in the house of commons the British chancellor of the exchequer estimated the direct war expenditure of Great Britain for the present year at 1,000,000,000 pounds sterling, the total expenditure amounting to about five million pounds sterling daily. He provided for new taxation amounting to about 65,000,000 pounds sterling annually and declared that the government was raising over 300,000,000 pounds sterling a year by the taxation imposed since the beginning of the war.

Great Britain has declined to release thirty-eight German, Austrian and Turks removed by British warships from the American steamer China off the Chinese coast.

The right of the British government to seize subjects of enemy countries returning home to take part in the war is said to be insisted upon the British statement handed to the state department. The American government is expected to dispute this contention.

The new Russian war minister, General Chouvaev, announces that all his efforts will be directed to providing the Russian army with sufficient equipment to win the war.

He declares that "must be more deeds and fewer words" and that reorganization in some departments is necessary.

Austria, following the example of Germany, has informed Holland that no Austro-Hungarian submarine was responsible for the sinking of the Dutch steamer Tubantia.

Plan Monument to Discoverer of Oxygen.

Prof. Francis C. Phillips, noted chemist of the University of Pittsburgh, and chairman of the Society of American Chemists, has sounded a call for the perpetuation by means of a suitable monument of the memory of Dr. Joseph Priestley, the English-American scientist and author, who discovered oxygen and other important chemical elements. Prof. Phillips' plan is for the erection of this monument at Northumberland, Pa., the former home of the scientist, to whom no fewer than four such testimonials have been erected in England. His project will be taken up at the next annual meeting of the society.

The frame building which the scientist erected at Northumberland as a residence, together with the wing used as a laboratory, are still standing, while many of the instruments he used are now in the Smithsonian Institution in this city.

The centennial of the discovery of oxygen was celebrated in Northumberland in 1874, and Dr. Priestley is buried in the cemetery of that town. The scientific pioneer not only discovered the element, but made the first preparation of nitric oxide, nitrous oxide and hydrochloric and other important acids. He was the author of works of great importance, both in chemistry and theology, and established in his town of residence the first Unitarian Church in central Pennsylvania.

Franking Abuse Attacked.

Abuse of the congressional franking privilege is denounced in a report of the House printing committee at Washington, which has included a provision in the pending revision of the printing laws designed to stop the practice. The report charges that members of Congress furnish franked envelopes to individuals, committees and organizations interested in promoting a particular propaganda at the public expense.

"Millions upon millions of franked envelopes, supplied free to members of Congress for their own use, have been turned over to private organizations to conduct mail campaigns for certain purposes," the report says. "It has been no uncommon thing for some members to order several hundred thousand, or even

THE WATCH.

My watch wouldn't work worth a dime, it was always a fortnight too slow, instead of recording the time, it monkeyed around, to and fro. The mainspring seemed out of repair, it traveled by spasms and jerks; so I sat me right down in a chair, and studied the watch and its works. I took it apart with a wrench, and studied the levers and gears all piled in a heap on the bench; I studied and wiggled my ears. I put the wheels back in the case, and shook them to give them a shock; but the hands didn't go around the face, and the works didn't tick nor yet tick. I asked the plumber and doctor, and counsel I asked of the judge, consulted the dealer in ice—and still the blamed works wouldn't budge. "Methinks," I remarked, "and I wist, I must go to the jeweler's shop." He gave it three twists of the wrist, and the watch went along like a top. That plan's kept me down in the past—I plan that is doubtless the worst I always reserve till the last the thing I should tackle at first.

a million franked envelopes, and then send the entire lot to a committee or organization having no connection whatever with the government for its use in the mailing of certain extracts from the Congressional Record or public documents that may also have been printed in its behalf at the expense of the government. Such transactions have cost the government many thousands of dollars for printing and carrying free in the mails tons of publications intended to further the special interest of certain individuals or organizations.

"The committee is of the opinion that the furnishing of franked envelopes for such purposes should be declared unlawful in no uncertain terms and that a proper penalty be attached for violations of the same. It is believed that a vigorous enforcement of the proposed section will result in a large saving to the government and at the same time end one of the chief activities of the lobby that has for many years reviled in the use of congressional franking at the expense of the public."

The Pay of Soldiers.

Congressman Gardner tried unsuccessfully to have the house increase the "basic pay" of the private in the United States army from $15 to $20 a month, involving an increase in total annual expenditure, under the house bill, of $10,000,000. He is skeptical of results, with the present rate of pay maintained. Recruiting is slow and 40,000 recruits a year seem the maximum in times of industrial prosperity in a population of 100,000,000. Mr. Gardner is consistent in proposing to increase the soldier's pay in order to encourage recruiting, for he desires that the regular army shall have at least 200,000 enlisted men on a peace basis.

The pay of soldiers in the ranks in foreign countries before the present European war was disclosed definitely in the recent house debate, according to the Springfield Republican. The United States paid 60 cents a day, Great Britain 30 cents, Italy 23 1-3 cents, Germany 12 2-3 cents, France 6 2-3 cents, Austria-Hungary 2 2-3 cents, Japan 2 2-3 cents, Russia 1 1-3 cents. The American and British armies were the only ones on a volunteer basis, and American pay was still twice the British pay. Where compulsory training and service exist, as in all the other countries mentioned, the pay was hardly more than nominal.

The Kahn amendment providing for an army of 220,000 enlisted men was defeated in the house by a small margin, yet the house overwhelmingly defeated the Gardner amendment raising the soldier's pay to $20 a month. An army of 220,000 men in time of peace could not be maintained in the United States because that number of men could not be found who would voluntarily enlist. Nor is it at all likely that 220,000 men could be found to enlist in time of peace if the pay for privates was made $20 a month instead of $15. The $1 a week extra would have a very slight effect. To make the army attractive to the right sort of men simply on the basis of wages, Mr. Gardner must favor a much higher wage than $20 a month. But when he gets up toward $25 or $30, let him beware of the man at home who pays the taxes to support the army of the United States.

U. S. WILL EXPECT PROMPT REPLY FROM GERMANY TO INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, April 4.—After today's meeting of the cabinet, it was stated authoritatively that the United States would expect a prompt reply from Germany to the inquiry regarding the British channel steamer Sussex and other vessels which evidence before the state department indicates were attacked by German submarines.

It is understood, however, that no attempt will be made to determine what course the United States shall pursue until a reasonable time has been given for completion of the investigation which Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has been informed the German government is making. Secretary Lansing indicated that no action of any kind would be taken for several days at least. Only in case there is unreasonable delay on the part of Germany in denying or assuming responsibility for the attacks will any step be contemplated on the basis of the information already gathered by the American embassies at London and Paris.

DANIEL HOAN LEADS BADING IN MILWAUKEE MAYORALTY RACE

MILWAUKEE, April 4.—Daniel Hoan, Social Democrat probably has been elected mayor of Milwaukee over Gerhard A. Bading non-partisan present incumbent, by from 1,000 to 1,500 majority.

In many towns and villages in Wisconsin which voted on the liquor question today the drys made gains.

Only two towns in Jackson County are left in the "wet" list. They are the towns of Maryland, where no vote was taken and Alma Center, which remained wet by a majority of only twenty-two. Black River Falls went dry for the first time in twenty years and Brockway went dry for the first time in twenty five years.

WETS FILE OBJECTIONS.

Danville, Ill., April 4.—Objections were filed by attorneys for the wets today against the dry petition, and the hearing was set for next Friday by the city election commission. The wets claim they found numerous errors in the petition that will invalidate it including many names signed twice, names of persons not registered; pages not certified, etc.

Danville will vote on the saloon question at the city election April 18th.

Peoria, Ill., April 3.—"Conserve your finances and your resources that you may be better prepared to enter the great struggle necessary to secure organization of the miners in Hopkins county, Kentucky," was the key note flung out to the miners of Illinois today by President Frank Farrington. His admonition came in the course of debate on a proposition to hold the present convention of the Illinois district, United Mine Workers of America in session for several weeks to hear and take action on the reports and recommendations of the scale committee in conjunction with its conferences with the operators.

STATE ONLY POLICE PROTECTION CAN AVERT MILK FAMINE

Prediction is Made that Unless Owners of Dairy Farms Change Attitude There Will be Scarcely Enough Milk in Chicago for the Babies.

Chicago, April 3.—It was predicted today that unless owners of the dairy farms change their attitude, which is to prevent the shipment of milk to Chicago until the distributors raise prices paid them, that there will be scarcely enough milk in the city for the babies at the end of three days.

The prediction was made at a conference of the heads of the distributing companies with Dr. John Dill Robertson, commissioner of health.

Dr. Robertson had inspectors out to see that the distributors do not try to get milk into the city without inspection.

The commissioner was told that a milk famine could be averted only by sufficient police protection to enable non-striking farmers to ship their product. It was reported from Elgin, Ill., today, a small riot was precipitated at Dundee when "insurgent" dairymen tried to pass the pickets of the milk producers' association. Farmers, pickets, deputies and townspeople all were said to have taken a hand. Three of the six deputies attempting to stop the rioting drew guns. Pickets forced them into an automobile and drove them out of town. Harry Nelson, a special deputy, was struck in the side with a stone. His injuries are not believed to be serious, the report said.

DRAINAGE CONGRESS IS CALLED TO MEET IN QUINCY APRIL 10

QUINCY, Ill., April 3.—At the solicitation of J. H. Nolan, reclamation agent for the state of Missouri, a drainage congress has been called to meet in Quincy April 10th. Hundreds of invitations were mailed today to men in the Mississippi Valley between Keokuk, Ia., and Elsbury, Mo.

An appeal will be made to congress for support and the use of a portion of the funds which are expected to be provided for in a bill now pending in congress which provides for river improvement above Cape Girardeau, Mo.

U. S. EXPERTS MEET TO SETTLE ORE DISPUTE.

Kansas City, Mo., April 3.—The long standing dispute between the government appraisers and the big importers of ores as to the method of appraisal will have a thorough threshing out at a meeting of the full board of general appraisers, which opens here today. The government authorities have recognized the importance of the issue, since the value of ores brought into the country annually amounts to many millions of dollars. The metal trade has long sought a revision of the government appraisal methods, and the importers will be given a chance to state their case.

PASS CUMMINS' AMENDMENT.

Washington, April 3.—Over vigorous objection by Chairman Chamberlain of the military committee, the senate today voted 35 to 39 for the Cummins' plan to amend the army re-organization bill by creating a national guard section of the general staff. When recess was taken today, the chairman and other members of the committee were fighting hard against a second amendment, championed by Senator Cummins and Senator Lee of Maryland which would eliminate the provision for a federal volunteer army.

STATE BOARD ORDERS RELEASE OF MRS. CORA WILLIS MADDOX

Investigation by Secretary of Charities Commission Results in Recommendation That Woman Be Released Immediately.

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—The state board of administration ordered the release today of Mrs. Cora Willis Maddox from the state hospital for the insane at Elgin. An investigation made by Archibald Bowen, secretary of the state charities commission at the request of Governor Dunne, resulted in Bowen making a recommendation that the woman be released immediately.

In a statement to the members of the board of administration Bowen said steps should be taken to have more formality about the commitment of a person to an insane asylum.

"A representative of the state's attorney of the county in which the hearing is held should be present in all cases," said Bowen. "This woman claims she was 'railroaded' by her relatives. The proceedings in her case were very hurried to say the least. Maclay Hoyne, states attorney of Cook county, made a separate investigation of this case and arrived at a similar conclusion. The governor's attention was attracted to this case by a letter to him by Mrs. Maddox while she was being held at Elgin. Mrs. Maddox is the possessor of considerable property."

SUPREME COURT HEARS SPY EXTRADITION CASE.

Washington, April 3.—The Supreme Court of the United States will today consider the appeal of Ignatius T. Tschitsch Lincoln, the former member of the British Parliament who has boasted of being a German spy, from the decision of the federal court in New York holding him for extradition to England to answer charges of forgery.

Lincoln maintains he is one of the most important and able of German spies, and that the British government is seeking to extradite him purely for political motives. The British government claims that the eccentric refugee is wanted purely for offenses that are extraditable.

Lincoln escaped from a deputy United States marshal in New York last January and from his hiding place offered to surrender if he was promised immunity from extradition to England. Thirty five days later, Lincoln was recaptured on Broadway by agents of the Department of Justice.

NOTHING IS PERFECT

"Even the best of schemes has its drawbacks," remarked the druggist. "I invented a new kind of condition powder, and it promised to be a best seller, and then along came the horse doctor, who has been patronizing me for fifteen years, and said he was going to boycott me for trying to ruin his business."

"No scheme is perfect," agreed the village patriarch. "A story in this evening's paper reminded me of a painful experience when I was comparatively young man. I had recently married my third wife, who was a pious woman. At that period I was given to profane language, and the most trifling accident would cause me to shed a lot of language that needed screening."

"My wife protested a hundred times, and I tried to abandon the habit, but was always forgetting good resolutions. One day, in the course of an argument, my wife said that if swearing cost me money, I wouldn't forget so easy. This suggested an excellent plan to me, and to show her that I was sincere in my desire to reform, I agreed to pay her ten cents for every cuss word I used. For a few days I was busy handing my pocket money to that excellent woman, and then I realized that if things kept on that way, I'd soon be bankrupt."

"So I made a determined effort to cut out the biased language, and my success was greater than I could have hoped for. In the course of two or three weeks I was handing my wife a dime at long intervals, and was surprised and pained to notice that she didn't seem enthusiastic over it. The truth is that she had never enjoyed so much pin money in her life as when the scheme was first inaugurated, and no point-up of my oratorical powers. Once having experienced the bliss of owning the back of my head, I sat on the supply cut off was a great grief to her."

"Then unpleasant things began to happen around the house. One evening I started down cellar to get me an apple, and an old iron pot had been left on the steps, and I stepped in it, and then finished the journey in the back of my head. I sat on the concrete floor expressing my sentiments in ringing terms, and my wife stood at the head of the stairs with a score card, checking off the cuss words, and after I had run down I had to shell out 90 cents in one bunch."

"The next day the step ladder collapsed under me when I climbed it to fix the stovepipe, at my wife's request, and before I thought of the penalty I had reeled off about forty kilometers of discourse that had blue smoke on it, and my wife collected $1.10."

"Then I began to suspect that she was laying traps for me, and a little investigation showed that I had guessed right the first time."

HOW TO PROLONG LIFE.

By adopting a simple diet men like Conaro have lived to be 100 years of age, but with our complex diets of today, the vitality of the aged is taxed to its utmost endurance. A simple diet, therefore, is conducive to a long life, and if the vitality becomes impaired and weakness seems apparent, our local druggist, Lee P. Allcott, has in Vinol a reliable, non-secret remedy which contains just the elements needed to restore strength to weak, feeble old people, and prolong a healthy, happy life.—Adv.

DODD'S MEN PERFORM FEATS OF BRAVERY

TROOPS HOPED TO REACH GUERRERO BEFORE DAYLIGHT

Mistake in Roads Cost an Hour—Dodd Believes He Could Have Captured or Annihilated the Entire Villa Force if Given a Better Guide.

At Headquarters Commanding General in Mexico, March 31st—The 55 mile march by American troops under Colonel Dodd to Guerrero was hotly pressed in the hope that the town could be reached before daylight. However, a mistake in roads cost an hour and it was not until after sunrise that the adobe huts of Guerrero came into sight.

Given a better guide and omitting the mistake in roads, which cost an hour, Colonel Dodd believes he could have either captured or annihilated the entire Villa force.

Surrounding a Mexican village requires much time because these places cover several square miles and are enclosed by maze of adobe walls from four to six feet high. To this, in this case was added the handicap of operating in the full light of the morning sun. However, despite his difficulties Colonel Dodd was able partly to encompass the town and enter portions of it before his troops were discovered.

Reports reaching here say Villa had been in Guerrero all night resting from the wound he was said to have sustained two days before in the fight with Carranza forces. According to the story told the Americans he had departed in a carriage a short time before Colonel Dodd's cavalry made its attack. At any rate he was not present during the fight.

Before the American cavalry could complete their movements preparatory to action the Villa forces began dashing out of the town on all sides firing as they rode.

Running fights followed in which the American troops performed desperate feats of bravery. During five hours they rode hard on the heels of the retreating Villistas. For ten miles to the northeast the pursuit lasted, the broad lane of the fight being dotted here and there with the bodies of dead and wounded Mexicans. With what he considered accurate information that Villa was badly crippled, so that he could neither ride horseback nor walk, Colonel Dodd turned northeast for pursuit of the routed bandits, maintaining also a force at Guerrero, ready to strike in any other direction.

Once during the fight with Colonel Dodd's men the Villa forces seemed to be preparing for a stand outside the town but they broke without a serious fight before the rush of the cavalrymen. One body of hard-riding Mexicans was caught on top of a ridge by the Americans who shot down a dozen of them as they rode sharply defined against the sky line. The fighting ended shortly after noon when the last of the Villa men mounted on flecter and surer-footed horses made their escape into the mountains.

In retreating to the east, the Villistas walked into a district along the northern edges of which other columns of other Mexican cavalry were occupying. Proydencia and Santa Ana, from forty to fifty miles north of the scene of the Guerrero fight, mark the upper borders of this district. The Villistas headed for hills and mountains, ranging in height from several hundred to several thousand feet, apparently thinking they would find temporary refuge.

Among some of these hills the Americans found marks of carriage wheels. The picked command of Major Robert L. Howse of the eleventh cavalry was ordered to block one of the passes thru which Villa's men might try to escape. Word was hurried back to Major Frank Tompkins at the advanced base. Major Tompkins is of the thirteenth cavalry, the officer who led the American pursuit across the boundary from Columbus the morning Villa raided the American town. The officer who carried word back to Major Tompkins asked the automobile mechanic one question:

"Have you extra tires?"

"Yes," was the answer.

The officer threw car into high gear and drove over rocks, ditches and hills. Tompkins' orders were to close another of the passes against Villa's escape. The men who had been without rations for four days, except such as they could pick up in the country were favored by the arrival of an automobile supply train which pulled in just before they left on a night ride.

The troops made a mid-night start for their station which it was hoped would close the last door by which Villa's men might escape northward. This morning an aeroplane came into headquarters camp having picked its way thru snow and thru air which the aviator described as "boiling."

This condition consisted of occasional whirlwinds sweeping down off the mountains upon the Mesas the super-heated air rising from sand flats wherever the sun shone for a few minutes. When the sun was out the weather was uncomfortably hot, but when clouds whirled across its face men began to shiver slightly with cold. The aeroplane, the only speedy means of communication except automobiles came in on dispatch duty. It circled the camp once at about 100 feet, enabling the aviator who had never seen this table land before to choose a landing place. Soon after these aeroplanes arrived most of the cavalrymen still remaining in camp galloped out on a short ride exultant because they were going to investigate a report that Villa was in the Mountains only a few miles from here. Yesterday while coming here by automobile General Pershing's escort took the wrong road riding nearly into town which was believed to be full of Villistas at the time. They were within ten miles of the place, when the error in the road was discovered. Later in the day it was reported that two scouts for the Americans were in this town and in possible danger. Volunteers were called for to bring them in.

The scouts were brought in safely. Several mule packs of Mexican silver money has been sent to Colonel Dodd's troopers to enable them to obtain food and fodder from the Mexicans. The American money was such an unknown quantity among the Mexicans that trading with it was difficult.

MINNESOTA STATE TREASURER ON TRIAL

St. Paul, Min., April 4—Walter J. Smith, former State Treasurer of Minnesota, who is under indictment on charges of grand larceny in connection with irregularities in the handling of the State funds, will be tried today. Smith has been in a Minneapolis sanitarium for some weeks, recovering from an attack of pneumonia. He claims that everything will come out right, and that the construction which the prosecutors put upon his actions in office will be eliminated by the full explanation of the matters involved.

The irregularities were discovered in February. The amount to $28,962, and covered three forged district school warrants for $18,000, $4,600 and $6,000. The signatures of all these warrants are said to have been forged by R. C. Pickett, deputy state auditor and clerk to the state board of investments. Pickett will also be tried at the present term of court, and will appear today.

The entire amount of the irregularities has been made good. Smith denies knowledge of any of the forged warrants except that for $18,000, and has asserted that while he had deposited this warrant to his own credit, that he was acting in good faith as a trustee of the fund. Pickett has admitted forging the $18,000 warrant, and asserted that it had been turned over to Smith. Pickett claimed that he had since borrowed money from his chief.

Smith resigned as State Treasurer, in order to relieve Governor Burnquist from embarrassment. He wrote the Governor that when the transactions are fully disclosed in the light of their surrounding environment and circumstances, they will receive thru a sense of public justice an infinitely different construction from that so far accorded them. The charge has been made that Smith is the victim of an arch-conspirator. His friends are standing by him. Smith is a brilliant young man, extremely popular socially and politically.

TOBACCO FRAUD

Philadelphia, April 4—The roundup of cigar makers and tobacco firms who are charged by the United States government with fraud in evading the internal revenue tax, brings a number of the accused men before the federal court here today for a hearing. The names are all of distinct foreign origin, and the accused tobacco men are nearly all small dealers and cigar-makers of this city. The roundup took place last month in New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, under the direction of internal revenue officials.

It is charged that these small dealers and cigar firms have been systematically defrauding the government. The main charge against the Philadelphia defendants is using empty boxes of high-priced cigars and tobacco for the sale of cheaper grades. The three technical charges are removing tobacco and cigars from their premises without being properly boxed and stamped, failing to exhibit their registry number, and failing to keep a proper record of their sales and return a correct inventory of these to the collectors.

The investigation conducted by federal agents disclosed the fact that the small dealers have been evading the internal revenue tax for some ten or fifteen years. It is admitted that many of the offenders are conducting their small businesses along the same lines as they did in Europe, and that they made light of government regulations. It is not believed that in cities where the cigar makers are familiar with American methods of doing business the fraud is carried on.

The stock of tobacco and cigars carried by the offending persons was seized by the government during the raids in New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

ART RADICALS OUTDO CUBISTS
Chicago, April 4—The cubists are out-cubed by the Independent Artists' Society which today opened a public exhibition here. Chicago is the hot-bed of art radicals in America, and some interesting productions are the result of the getting together of the new art cult here. "When we start to paint a picture, we don't need anything—not even an idea. That is, not at first. Sometimes I begin by simply making a blue spot on the centre of the canvas," says one of the most radical of the radicals. "Then I sit and stare at it and give free wing to my imagination—let it rave, you might say. It needn't be a picture of anything at all."

One of the productions shows bright green grass, with purple sheep and pink trees.

COTTON MEN MEET AT ATLANTA
Atlanta, Georgia, April 4—American Cotton Manufacturers' association opened its annual convention here today and will be in session today and tomorrow. The cotton mill men are here from many sections of the south and north. A barbecue will be given at the Druid Hills Golf club in their honor.

JESEY MURDER CASE UP.

Jersey, N. J., April 4.—The trial of Joseph Romano, charged with the murder of Pasquale Grana-to near Keyport, will begin today before Judge Malisch. The accused man was a flagman employed on a railroad crossing near Grana's farm. As Grana left his farm on the evening of June 24 last, Romano intercepted him, and, without having had previous trouble, so far as it is known, shot him.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one cure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring;
use enough to moisten the scalp and rub
it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single crumb and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Fevish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle.
Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT.

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Adv.

Some Topics of the Farm

THE COST OF "CHEAP" CLOVER SEED.

There recently came to this office
a sample of clover seed for analysis as to purity and test for germination. The owner had purchased the seed for $10.50 per bushel, but upon examination he found what he termed a few weed seed present.

We analyzed this seed, found 18 per cent to 20 per cent weed seed by count. That is, of every hundred seed taken promiscuously, 10 to 20 were weed seed. On sub-dividing these seed into different varieties, there was found to be 5 witch grass, 1 timothy, 3 plantain, 1 horse sorrel, 1 curled leaf dock, 2 bracketed plantain, 3 buck-horn, 1
Canadian thistle, 1 green fox tail.
In all, there were eight different kinds of weed in this clover seed.
The above percentages were figured on the basis of count. However, the seed was not bought by measurement but by weight. The actual cost of the good seed in this sample was figured in the following manner:

A sample of 107 grains was taken and the good, bad and weed seed were divided into separate groups.
These groups were weighed and it was found that there were 11 grains of inferior or immature seed, 9 grains of weed seed and 87 grains of good, mature, plump seed.

On a percentage basis, this means that there were present 8.5 per cent weed seed, 10.22 per cent inferior and immature clover and 81.2 per cent good seed by weight.

Of the good seed, that which composed 81.2 per cent of the sample, only 73 out of 100 would germinate.
In other words, in every hundred pounds of seed purchased the buyer only obtained 59.2 pounds of seed that would grow. The immature clover, weed seed and dead seed were worse than "fillers."

At $10.50 per bu. the seed cost $17.50 per 100 pounds. 18.22 pounds of this was "filler" or foreign matter in so far as good seed is concerned. For every 100 pounds of seed purchased, 81.7 pounds clean seed were obtained. That is, the clean seed cost $21.30 per 100 pounds. Only 75 per cent or 59.2 pounds of this clean seed would grow. This means that the "live" seed cost $29.10 per 100 pounds or, figuring in terms of bushels, that the good, "live" seed cost $17.46 per bushel. At the time this seed was purchased the Livingston County Soil and Crop Improvement association was buying good clean seed of 95 per cent germination for $11.75.

Where was the saving in buying the cheap seed?

The above is the actual cost of the seed. Let us now figure the indirect loss incurred thru the purchase of this bad seed. This man will sow the usual amount of seed per acre and thereby obtain about half a stand. He will obtain about half the benefits normally derived from a clover crop. This loss can hardly be figured in dollars and cents.

He will obtain a smaller yield of hay, if he makes hay, or approximately a half seed crop if he cuts for seed. On a ton and one-half basis, this would be a loss of at least $7.00 per acre. In addition to this the weed seed he is sowing are to be accounted for. If this seed is sown at the rate of 10 pounds per acre, there would be sown approximately five weed seed per square foot. If, to obtain a better stand of clover, more seed were sown, the number of weed seed would be correspondingly increased.
Five weed seed per square foot means five weed plants in that area, for all weed seed are very viable.
Those five plants will produce a tremendous amount of seed, thereby giving a fine stand of noxious weeds such as buck-horn, sorrel, etc.

There is no economical saving in purchasing poor seed at a dollar or two less per bushel than good, clean, high germinating seed costs. But in practically every case there is a big loss as against judicious purchase of high priced seed.

DAIRY EXTENSION WORK.

"Bull Day" drew a crowd of over 15,000 visitors to Carbonade, Ill., to celebrate the first big dairy extension movement ever held in the United States.

Because of bad weather the attendance was not so large as expected, but those who did come were representative of the leading business men, bankers and farmers in the state. A special train brought representatives of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, headed by C. H.
Markham, president of the Illinois Central, and J. C. Blair, industrial and immigration commissioner of the road. The St. Louis men were conspicuous in the celebration and they also came in a special train. Prominent among them were J. D. Lynn of the Business Men's league and H.
J. Hodson of the East St. Louis
Chamber of Commerce.

A feature of the parade was the herd of thoroughbred Holstein bulls which was given to the farmers of southern Illinois by the Illinois Central railroad. The State Dairy and Food commissioner, W. Scott Matthews, who was the originator of the dairy extension plan, with other prominent state officials, lead the parade. School children in wagons, the Carbonade company of the National Guard, the Carbonade Jersey Cattle association, the Chicago, St. Louis and other delegations followed the cattle to the Elks club, where speeches were made.

The plan to give Illinois dairy farming a boost was conceived of by Mr. Matthews several months ago, when he called together a body of big business men and explained to them the absolute necessity of interesting the farmers in buying more and better cattle. As a result of this meeting, sufficient money was subscribed to carry on the work.

The monster demonstration at Carbonade was given for the express purpose of impressing upon the farmers the many advantages to be gained by dairy farming. The meeting was a success.

Bulls were given to the following communities by the Illinois Central:
Pinkneyville, Du Quoin, Finney, Murphysboro, Makanda and Carbon-ade.

Too much credit cannot be given the men behind this movement, because it is the making of southern Illinois. The people of Carbonade have shown themselves to be in the front rank as hosts and the huge crowd was taken care of perfectly.

$200 Land Sale Near Litchberry.

Fred Henderson has purchased from W. H. Peteshill the forty acre tract known as the "Jimmy" Pet-eshill farm two and one-half miles west of Litchberry at the price of $200 per acre. The transfer of this land sets a new value in that particular locality and indicates that some of the farms there have been listed at less than the real value.

Two hundred dollars an acre is not an excessive price for the tract, but larger farms with better improvements will command still higher prices. A resident of that locality writing about the sale says, "The price of $200 per acre for this forty acre tract has caused land owners and prospective buyers hereabouts to sit up and take notice. Nearly all are of the opinion that in the next five years there will be other lands transferred in this section at still higher prices. They maintain that land that can bring a gross income annually of $30 to $50 per acre is a better investment at $200 per acre than comes from money loaned at the usual rate of interest.
The public will find it interesting to watch land prices in the north part of Morgan county."

We expect when Billy Gene gets a little more strength in his arms and grip in his fingers, and gets hold of Mildred's hair, he will bring big sister to the earth with a bump. Congratulations.

PIONEER'S LIFE IS RECALLED UPON HIS CENTENNIAL

Forty-one Descendants of Florentine Kellogg Gathered to Pay Honor to His Memory.

The following article from the Santa Barbara, Calif., Morning Press tells of a birthday anniversary gathering to honor the memory of Florentine E. Kellogg, the exercises occurring on a date near the hundredth anniversary of his birth. The Kelloggs were among the first settlers of Morgan county and Florentine Kellogg had his last residence here about 1872 at the northwest corner of Grove and Prospect streets. His sons, F. L. and P. E. Kellogg, graduated from Illinois college about that year. The article referred to follows:

"The scene of one of the most unique of the Christmas festivities was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Kellogg, at 26 East Annapolis street. 'Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg gave a Christmas dinner in honor of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Mr. Kellogg's father, the late Florentine E. Kellogg, which anniversary occurs January 1, 1916. To this dinner were invited all of the descendants of Florentine E. Kellogg, numbering 74 (including those who have married into the family), 41 of whom were present at the dinner. The rooms were elaborately decorated with holly and poinsettias, a sumptuous turkey dinner being served with all the usual accessories.

"After dinner the party was entertained with songs by Miss Thelma Kellogg of Goleta, the reading by F. L. Kellogg of a chapter from Frank E. Kellogg's biography of his father, and the reading by Miss Ruth Culver from an anniversary diary written by Florentine E. Kellogg in his boyhood days, in the year 1829. Also the telling of amusing stories by the various members of the party enlivened the occasion.

"Florentine Erwin Kellogg was a genuine pioneer. He was a member of the first white family that settled in Morgan county, Ill., in 1818, and was one of the very early California settlers, having crossed the plains with ox teams and settled in Napa valley in 1846—two years in advance of the discovery of gold in California. In 1872 he became one of the early American pioneers of Santa Barbara county, settling in Goleta valley where he died October 1, 1889.

"All of the surviving members of his family were present at the dinner, consisting of his widow, Mrs. O. M. Kellogg, and his two sons, Frank E. and F. L. Kellogg, all of this city, the rest of the party being made up of his grandchildren, their companions, and his great grandchildren. At a late hour in the afternoon a photographer appeared on the scene and took pictures of the group. These photographs will be distributed as souvenirs of the anniversary."

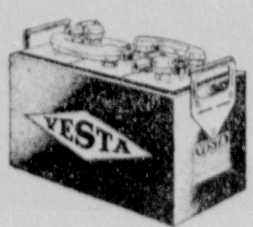

A STORY OF THE CIVIL WAR

Yesterday morning S. W. Nichols addressed the members of Mrs. Koch's class in the high school on the unwritten side of a soldier's life giving experiences during the war of the rebellion and telling how the soldiers spent the days not in battle but in camp and garrison life. The dress, rations, methods of cooking, marches, picket duty, organization of the army, the different branches of the service and many other details such as are not seen in a history were given.

Before the subject proper of the address was begun some facts regarding the cause of the war, the things that led to secession and the traits of the southern people at that time were briefly told.

Today And A Generation Hence

Splendid Influence of a Well Known Remedy And Why All Expectant Mothers Need It!

The flight of time makes us think of the future. The baby of today reflects what greatness may be acquired when it grows up. Just as infancy brings relief to the expectant mother is the first and greatest of obligations. There is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that has been a safeguard, a helpful daily influence, to a host of women. Applied externally to the navel, they stretch without undue pain, there is an absence of distress, the nerves are soothed by taking away the burden of leaving all to just natural conditions.

We do not know to what extent the comfort and ease of the expectant mother influences the mental development of the child. Its physical nature, however, must be greatly aided. And it may easily be understood why with a restful nervous system, a calm anticipation and a joyous expectancy, there can be none of those harassing disturbances to provoke nervous conditions. There is in "Mother's Friend" the direct and immediate help that all expectant mothers require. Used by their own hand, guided by their own minds, they learn at once the blessed relief from morning sickness resulting from undue stretching. They experience daily calm and nightly rest. It is indeed "Mother's Friend." Get a bottle today of any druggist. Then write Bradford E. Palmer, Co., 510 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for one of the most entertaining and valuable little books ever presented. It is worth writing for.

WOMAN A PHYSICAL WRECK

Tells in Following Letter How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a physical wreck. I had been going to a doctor for several years but he did me no good. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I decided to give it a fair trial, and it gave me relief from bearing down pains which had been so bad that I would have to lie down. I also used the Sanative Wash and it has done me a great deal of good, and I am not troubled with a weakness any more."—Mrs. P. L. BRILL, 1299 Booth Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

The most successful remedy for woman's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test for forty years, which would be impossible if it did not have genuine merit.

For special advice, free, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

For Croup--Mothers-- Always Keep This Handy

The day of the Croup scare is over for those parents who wisely keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the home ready for instant use. Mrs. Chas. Reitz, Allen's Mills, Pa., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for the past eleven years and would not be without it. It has saved me many a doctor's bill for colds and croup." If toward nightfall the little ones grow hoarse and croupy, if their breathing becomes noisy and stuffy, give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Many a careful mother has been able to ward off an attack of spasmodic croup by its timely use. If you are troubled by the hoarse, hoarse cough that means croup, give Foley's Honey and Tar Compound at once. It will ease the little sufferers quickly, cut the thick choking phlegm, and soon they will have easy breathing and peaceful quiet sleep. Every User Is a Friend.

A MERRY GATHERING OF LADIES.

Mrs. J. M. Fox of Chapin Entertains at a Week End House Party.

Mrs. J. M. Fox entertained for the week end, at her home north of Chapin, Mrs. Rena Sheppard, Misses Lois Anderson, Gertrude Onken, Lucille Fox and Isabelle Fox. The guests, with Misses Addie and Edith Fox, had sleeping apartments upstairs, and they filled the rooms with exciting moments during all hours of the day—and as reported by the "Aggressives," at any hour of the night. The girls were divided into parties, the "Aggressives" so called for making the first conspiracy and attack upon the other side, the "Progressives."

The Fox home is fitted with transoms over the doors, and these proved most convenient and were used very advantageously. The sandman cast sand into the eyes of these girls at late hours, and finally after their retirement there were original songs and ballads, curfews, whistles, etc., which were in turn, followed by a responsive chorus in each room.

The early dawn on April 1st, brought to the "Progressives" a sudden awakening; the pounding on the door and the ringing of bells; and thru the glorious transom protruded a fishing pole, on the end of which hung April Fool signs, dangling in the air above them.

Other jokes were played, such as tied chairs, which when seated at the dining table could not be drawn out, the new but snappy mouse-trap set at one's feet under the table, the sugared, the salted and the peppered water, and the cotton filled cookies, the latter of which caused a party split afterwards known as the mysterious "Charley" side.

Allies were, at times laying down arms for one side, and went 'pro' the other. This caused greater excitement and conspiracies.

Several things were mysteriously misplaced, and as the "Progressives" entered the rooms of the "Aggressives," a ladder was placed to the window, whereby the "Aggressives" might place a guard to see the deeds done by those taking possession. The outcome of this was not altogether a mere farce but rather a tragedy in several acts.

On Sunday morning the "Aggressives" were locked in their room, and the "Progressives" commanded them to come down to breakfast by the way of the ladder, put to the window. They disobeyed and promptly resolved not to carry out their wishes, even though they spent the day there. Mr. Fox made conditions sadder, when with hot buns he climbed the ladder and tempted them to come down, and oh! they were hungry too—these prisoners.

All was quiet and when no guard was on duty at the locked door, over the transom went the youngest prisoner, and she hung, swung and then jumped to the floor, and unlocked the door that the rest might escape.

Again, one afternoon, the transom was used for placing an empty fudge pan, with three spoons, for those who were awake; from their seats by the entrance of tin buckets, bells and shoes, thrown into the room thru the transom.

The party was a grand success, and one didn't know from one hour to another, what might be brewing in the mysterious atmosphere. The kindness of the host and hostess, was greatly appreciated, and it is not necessary for the guests to resolve, that it be remembered as the "laugh house with plenty of good eats."

GOEBEL'S SLAYER SEEKS FREEDOM.

Frankfort, Ky., April 5.—The state pardon board will be asked at its meeting today to parole Henry E. Youtsey, who was convicted sixteen years ago of the murder of Governor William Goebel. He is serving a life term. The appeal will be made by Daniel E. O'Sullivan, chairman of the state prison commission. Sullivan bases his request on his belief that Youtsey is entitled to parole "by length of service, by continuous valuable work for the state, and by the provisions of the law and every dictate of fairness and humanity." He points out that those "who sought to profit by his acts are all free, the beneficiaries of pardons, while Youtsey alone is tortured on the rack of life imprisonment."

Governor Goebel was shot and killed here on Jan. 30, 1900, by a concealed assassin. The murder followed a long period of political turmoil. The law under which Youtsey was sentenced provides for parole after serving five years.

Senator L. Y. Sherman

A Letter From Senator Sherman

TO THE VOTERS OF THE TWENTY-ETH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS—

At a conference in Jacksonville January 5, 1916, at which, on motion of the Hon. Andrew Russell, the Hon. Homer J. Tice was chosen as chairman, a resolution was passed authorizing the undersigned to select his own delegates and alternates to the Republican national convention. A copy of these resolutions was forwarded to me by Mr. Tice and marked copies of newspapers were sent to me by other friends in this district. There are 191 counties in Illinois and 15 congressional districts, outside of Chicago. It so happened that the resolutions passed by the conference at Jacksonville were the only ones in the state, so far as I can discover, that authorized me to select my own delegates and alternates. When I looked at the resolutions of the Jacksonville conference I saw they endorsed me, but did not read down to the part authorizing me to select delegates and alternates.

Sometime previous to this a club was formed of which the Hon. William J. Calhoun of Chicago was the president. A number of vice presidents were selected from the various congressional districts. The Hon. John J. Reeve, and, as I now remember, Hon. Charles B. Graft were chosen as vice presidents by my friends who had charge of the formation of the club. After their election I received certain criticisms because I had failed to select others saying that while the gentlemen selected were of high character and in good personal standing, that Mr. Heint and his friends might feel as if they were not properly represented in the club. Mr. Heint, however, did not write me on this score. I had no knowledge at the time that any personal antagonism existed between Mr. Heint and Mr. Russell. It occurred to me that in recommending delegates that Mr. Heint might be selected and so remove the ground of criticism. When I glanced at the Jacksonville resolutions without noting that they authorized me to name the delegates, I thought I would arrange so as to give all my friends representation.

On January 12, 1916, I wrote Frank J. Heint, H. J. Tice, L. G. Bair of Chandlerville and Elmer Simpson of Carrollton asking the first two to become candidates for delegates, the last two candidates for alternates in my behalf. In the letter to Mr. Simpson I find by referring to my files I stated:

"I learn from press reports and from other sources that a conference of Republican friends decided to recommend Frank J. Heint and Homer J. Tice for the district delegates," and asking him if he would serve as an alternate.

In substance, the same letter went to each of those named. Favorable replies came from all of them saying they were glad to become candidates for me. Their letters of acceptance addressed to me were dated January 13 to 17, or about that time.

On January 25, 1916, after all of the gentlemen named had consented on my request to become candidates for such delegates and alternates, Mr. Russell wrote me making objection to Mr. Heint as a candidate, but saying that Mr. Tice was unquestionable, and expressing his friendship for me. Replying to this letter I fell into the same error I did in writing Mr. Simpson, namely, that Mr. Heint and Mr. Tice were selected at the Jacksonville conference which passed the resolutions endorsing me.

This was my error. I had written a number of letters to many parts of the state acknowledging receipt of resolutions of endorsement and recommending the names of the delegates and alternates. My recollection is now that nearly everyone of the fourteen other districts, outside of Chicago at the same time they endorsed me recommended candidates for delegates and alternates. In the great mass of correspondence coming to my desk on such matters I had fixed in my mind

A JACKSONVILLE BOY HONORED

The following is from a Seattle, Washington, paper, and tells of an important position awarded George R. Martin, formerly of this city. He has the entire state as his field, gets a good salary and a commission in addition.

"Morris Brothers, Inc., one of the leading bond houses in Portland, Ore., and for many years an important factor in the bond business of the Northwest, has opened a Seattle branch office in the Smith building. George R. Martin, formerly with the Seattle National Bank, will be in charge of the firm's interests in the State of Washington, with headquarters in Seattle."

"C. K. Williams, president of Morris Brothers, Inc., in announcing last week the firm's entrance into the local bond market, said that Washington now has become the most important state in the Northwest as a field for marketing high-class securities. This fact, with the growing prestige of Seattle as a financial center, lead the Portland firm to establish connections here from which it expects a rapidly growing business."

KENTUCKY MINERS AND OPERATORS CONFER.

Louisville, Ky., April 4.—The deadlock between the miners of western Kentucky and the members of the Western Kentucky Mine Operators' association is expected to be broken, and a wage scale satisfactory to both parties is anticipated, as the result of resumption here today of the negotiations between the workers and the operators. The mine owners have presented a flat demand for a 20 per cent reduction on all work, which would amount to nearly a half million dollars a year. The miners demand an agreement for a 5 per cent increase in pay for day work and a 3-cent increase on mine run work. The demands of the miners, if granted, would amount to an increased pay-roll of about $50,000 a year.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead! Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth! Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line? If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address: The Senreco Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

AUTO CRASHED INTO BOULEVARD LAMP POST

John F. Bierly Met With Accident When He Made Sharp Turn to Avoid Running Down C. B. Massey Mounted on Bicycle.

Tuesday afternoon about 1 o'clock John F. Bierly to avoid running down Clarence B. Massey, collided with the boulevard lamp post in front of the Drexel Billiard room on West State street. Mr. Bierly was driving his car west and when he neared West street a coal wagon came into State street from the north.

Mr. Bierly started to go in front of the wagon and turned to the south side of the street. Suddenly Mr. Massey who was riding a bicycle came around the coal wagon. It was a question of running over Massey or hitting the lamp post and Mr. Bierly chose the alternative and struck the post. All of the globes were knocked from the post and broken and the post was bent over nearly to the walk. Mr. Massey collided with the side of the car but escaped injury. Bierly's car was badly damaged by the collision and the damage is estimated at probably $100. It is fortunate that no one was injured in the accident.

Mr. Bierly met with a much more serious accident about two years ago when his car was struck by a C. P. & St. L. electric car on crossing near Springfield. At that time Mrs. Bierly was severely injured. Mr. Bierly's English bull dog was in both accidents and gave evidence yesterday that he remembered the happening two years ago.

MANDAMUS SUIT IN LOCAL SCHOOL CASE

PETITION FILED IN NAME OF G. S. ROGERSON WITH SUPREME COURT.

Action in Accordance With Agreement Reached by Board of Education and Township Trustees—Reasons Given Court to Permit Filing of Case—Early Decision Is Expected.

In the supreme court in Springfield Tuesday G. J. Gillespie of the firm of Gillespie & Fitzgerald, filed a petition for writ of mandamus to compel the school trustees of township 15 north and range 19, which includes the city of Jacksonville, to organize the Jacksonville school district under the general law. The petition is in the name of George S. Rogerson and directed against William A. Crawley, Frank Winkler and C. E. James, as trustees of the school district. J. Marshall Miller, one of the group of local attorneys who will represent the trustees, was in Springfield to enter appearance on behalf of the trustees. Judge M. T. Layman and John M. Butler are the other attorneys for the trustees, but only Mr. Miller appeared before the court Tuesday. In a case of this character it is necessary first for a petition to be filed asking for authority to file the petition for mandamus, and in order to facilitate the proceedings it was necessary for the defendants to enter their appearance. The relator by his attorneys, set forth the facts from their standpoint, and after the supreme court has granted an order for the issuance of mandamus proceedings, then there will be an opportunity for oral argument or the presentation of briefs.

Procedure According to Agreement.

As will be remembered, this whole procedure was determined upon at a conference held by the board of education, the school trustees and others especially interested in the matter. It was agreed that for the best interests of all parties concerned, that an early court decision as to the validity of the law adopted by the last general assembly, whereby the Jacksonville school charter was abolished, should be tested in the supreme court. In accordance with this plan the trustees met calling for an election under the general law, the trustees declined to act. This course put the matter in position so that mandamus proceedings could be brought. The entry of appearance on the part of the defendants is another step to hasten the decision and it is very much hoped that the court will find the opportunity to give a decision at the present term. Such a decision would finally settle the question as to whether the legislature acted within its rights in the adoption of the special law referred to.

In the petition for the writ of mandamus, the relator, George S. Rogerson, by his attorneys, asks the court for leave to file a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel William A. Crawley, C. E. James and Frank Winkler, as trustees of schools in township 15-19, to organize from unorganized territory heretofore constituting district number 117, a school district under the general law of Illinois, and to call and hold an election for board of education. The relator shows further that the respondents join with him in requesting the court to omit filing of this petition for the purpose of determining the question involved in the controversy. The following are set forth as facts: that school district No. 117 has heretofore been operating under a special charter. By an act of the legislature approved June 25, 1915, and in force March 1, 1916, entitled, "An act to repeal art. 11 of an act entitled, 'An act to incorporate the city of Jacksonville, in the county of Morgan and state of Illinois, approved Feb. 15, 1867, as amended by an act approved March 29, 1869,'" the provisions of said special charter under which said district has been organized and governed, were repealed. The board of education elected and holding office under said special charter is inoperative. As we understand it, there is a vested right in the people of a city to use a special charter which cannot be taken away without their consent. (On this subject the relator suggests to the court the consideration of several supreme court decisions.) If the point should be raised that the act is repealed by special or private law, the reply is that,

Answer Charge of Special Law.

First—A statute repealing a private law is not in its nature a private law but relates to general subjects the operating in a particular instance, the legislation tending to uniformity instead of diversity.

Second—There is no provision of the constitution prohibiting the passage of private or special laws except section 22 of article 4, which enumerates the instances in which a special or private law cannot be passed. The last clause of that section provides "in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable no special law can be enacted." Construing this section, the court has held that no special or local law can be enacted upon any of the special instances specifically enumerated by this section, but that as to all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, whether that particular legislation is justified by that section is a matter of legislative determination with which the courts will not interfere. And if the legislature determines that a special or private law is necessary in such instances, it is not being specifically prohibited by other provisions of this section, such legislative determination is final and conclusive upon the courts. (Four cases are suggested here to the court for consideration.) If the repealing act is effective, the city of Jacksonville is without a school district and without a board of education authorized to act for the district.

Uncertain Situation.

The uncertainty of the situation is one materially affecting the public welfare of the district and a large number of citizens and property owners therein. No employment of teachers can be effected pending this controversy, neither will the collection of taxes pay funds either to the former treasurer of the district or to the township treasurer of the school township until it shall be determined which is legally entitled to receive and disburse the same. If this petition had been filed in the circuit court of Morgan county it would have had to go to trial in May term, 1916, and no final judgment could have been entered thereon from which an appeal could have been taken to this court, and the question finally settled until after teachers should have been employed and the schools organized and provided for the coming school year.

In the meantime no one appears to be authorized to pay out any money, make any contracts or to take any other action involving the finances of the district on account of the present year's schools. The trustees of schools are in doubt about their duty in the premises and have refused to take action for the organization of the district. This case, therefore, presents a state of affairs which we submit requires immediate action on the part of the courts to preserve the rights of the citizens of the territory, formerly composing district No. 117 of the county of Morgan, being the Jacksonville school district.

All Joined in Petition.

It is therefore, respectfully requested by the relator on behalf of himself and all other citizens of Jacksonville, and of said former school district, that this court permit the petition to be filed and that such rules and orders may be entered as will result in a final determination of this cause at the present term of this court. The trustees for the schools, by their attorneys, joined in the request to permit the petition to be filed, entered their appearance and consented to a rule upon them to answer the petition.

In the petition for the writ of mandamus the act of the general assembly approved Feb. 15, 1867, is quoted. This act provides for the organization and government of a system of graded schools in Jacksonville and the boundaries of the school district were made co-extensive with the boundaries of the city.

An act of the legislature approved March 29, 1869, amending the charter is also quoted. This amendment so changed the charter that the members of the board were elected by the people, two to go out of office each year. Then the act approved by the assembly June 25, 1915, repealing a portion of the special charter is quoted. It is set forth that this act became effective March 1, 1916, and that W. A. Crawley, C. E. James and Frank Winkler were the duly elected trustees of schools and that it became their duty to assemble and organize the unorganized territory into a school district and call an election for members of the board of education.

Further it is declared that the trustees met March 2, 1916, and after considering the facts, adopted a resolution declining to take any steps toward the organization of the territory. A record of the resolution is not presented. The petition concludes with the prayer that a writ of mandamus issue direct to the trustees requiring them to assemble according to law and to cause the territory heretofore acting under special charter to be formed into a school district under the general school law and within ten days thereafter to call an election for a board of education for the school district so formed.

CENTENARY PASTOR DESCRIBES REWARDS OF CHRISTIAN LIFE

Words of Christ to Thief on Cross Are Theme for Strong Discourse— Cottage Prayer Meetings This Forenoon and the Services To-night.

The words of Christ to the dying thief on the cross formed the theme of an able discourse last night by the Rev. G. W. Flagg at Centenary M. E. church revival.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held at the following homes from 9:30 a. m. to 10 a. m. today: Mrs. Streuter, 128 Oak street. Leader, Mrs. Moon. Mrs. Elmer Garvey, 607 North Prairie street. Leader, Mrs. Vail. Mrs. Fred Benson, 443 South Mauvaisterre street. Leader, Mrs. T. H. Rapp. Mrs. J. W. Priest, 610 Grove street. Leader, Mrs. Priest.

One of the most powerful and appealing mother songs will be sung tonight by Misses Dorothy Smith and Catherine Rapp.

With the assistance of Mr. Fleet McClellan Mr. Moon will sing "Thou Out the Life Line." Mr. McClellan will sing an echo.

The text for the sermon Tuesday night was Luke 23:43, "Today shalt thou be with me in Paradise." "Jesus was crucified between two thieves," said Mr. Flagg. "One of them discovered Jesus was the Savior and asked to be remembered when Jesus came into His kingdom, and he received the above promise. The other saw only some one to sneer at, and passed out of life unsaved."

"Wouldn't any man whisper a message of hope to a soul at the last moment, even when men can no longer speak it? Even so would Jesus we may be sure. There in the shadow He meets men as He did the thieves. There some make the last decision, some for Him, some against. "But why walk into that shadow leaving friends uncertain? Will there be any comfort at heaven's gate in contemplating the surprise in store for friends left to worry, or sorrow over a life that went into shadows of uncertainty? Will there not rather be tears that will need wiping away in heaven itself?"

"And if one is saved at the last hour, there is the disappointing necessity of going empty handed into the presence of God. Why not enter His employ now, giving him days or years, and going at last with many sheaves to rejoice over with Him?"

By request "The Awakening chorus" was sung again, and for the first time the choir sang a new chorus composed by Mr. Moon, entitled "For God so Loved the World."

A quartet composed of Misses Nellie Self and Clara Ranson, and Messrs. Metcalf and Moon rendered "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." Before the sermon Mr. Moon sang "I Walk With a King." Rev. E. K. Towle offered the opening prayer.

A REMINISCENCE
The venerable James O. Hamilton was yesterday remarking that it was forty nine years since he turned the keys of the Jacksonville postoffice over to Capt. Horace Chapin, after occupying the position five short months. The affair was one of the incidents of Andrews Johnson's unhappy administration which was such a dire calamity to the country. Mr. Hamilton's predecessor was John D. Strong who was especially opposed to the president and made no effort to conceal the fact but rather sought to state it on various occasions whereat he lost his official head and the place went to an old soldier.

Mr. Hamilton was appointed but his name didn't go before the senate for confirmation. He tried to do all he could to get the endorsement of Senator Yates but failed to hold his position.

SETTLEMENT WORK IN CHICAGO DESCRIBED BY MISS COCHRAN

Address Before Foreign Missionary Society of Congregational Church Proved Especially Interesting— Work Follows Broad Lines of Helpfulness.

Yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Congregational church was held the annual thank offering meeting of the Ladies' Foreign missionary Society. Miss Margaret Irving entertained the ladies with some piano numbers and Miss Marjorie Black played very acceptably on the violin. Mrs. H. M. Capps read an excellent paper on Schaeffer schools and a number of letters from absent members were read.

Miss Gladys Cochran was present by invitation and gave an interesting and graphic account of her work in Chicago in different departments. Her principle efforts at first were put forth in the settlements. Many foreigners seem to think that this is not exactly a land of freedom but a land of license where they can do as they see fit without restraint. Of course not by any means are all that way, but those who drift into the large cities and stick there are likely to have among them many of that kind who fail to provide for their families, drink up their wages and behave badly on general principles. To seek out such cases as these or to hear reports from the deserted mothers, get clothes for the children, place the older ones in school and then get hold of the fathers and try to get some goodness into them was the great work which took the time of the young lady.

In the Association House every effort to promote a better life is put forth. Bible classes are formed, religious services are conducted, while clubs of men, women, boys and girls are formed for the purpose of uplift and betterment, the leaders being supplied by the settlements. The girls are taught sewing, cooking, housework generally and how to be useful.

The Day Nursery is another beneficent institution as there large numbers of little children can be left while the mothers go to work during the day. A trained nurse is employed and a fee of ten cents a day, 15 cents for two children and 25 cents for three is charged while wealthy north shore girls pay the running expenses of the enterprise. The Christopher House financed by the First Presbyterian church of Evanston is a noble enterprise aiding in saving many an unfortunate who has departed from the paths of right. The Chicago Commons established by Graham Taylor is another fine affair. Here are enjoyed dances and many kinds of pleasure, all with the idea of uplift and improvement.

Miss Cochran lived two years at the Hull House where no essentially religious bias exists but persons of all types are welcomed and all are urged to stand firm and true to their chosen faith whatever it may be. Many kinds of amusements are furnished and all the time the aim is to improve in every possible way the morals of the people, their habits and customs. Girls are taught sewing and housework as well as dress-making and type writing and are started on lives of usefulness. Miss Cochran also did some work in connection with the awful Eastland disaster being entrusted by the company with emergency funds and automobiles used to canvass the city and seek out the needy families of those who perished and aid them.

At the close of the program light refreshments were served, Mesdames E. P. Brockhouse, Harry Havenhill and F. J. Waddell being hostesses.

BIRTH OF A NATION THE GREATEST FILM ACCOMPLISHMENT

Historical Events Are Pictured in a Manner Which Makes the Production a Marvel.

"The Birth of a Nation," which will be shown for the first time in this city, at the Grand next Monday, may in one respect be considered as a play within a play, a birth of dramatic construction which has often been utilized by dramatists, but never before on such an elaborate scale and constructive detail. This refers particularly to the scene in Ford's theater, Washington, April 14, 1865, upon the occasion of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln, in the presence of a gala audience, gathered at that time to celebrate the close of the Civil war. The scene is recognized to be one of tense dramatic moments in a story that is astonishing for its thrilling action. The president, with his wife, is vividly shown in the presidential box and the approach of Booth with his pistol drawn and firing the fatal shot, likewise the assassin's leap from the box on to the stage, completely disrupting the progress of the play and setting the whole audience to one of fear and apprehension. The drama is a complete story within itself and yet it is a vital part of the entire story, which is covered in the large plan of the spectacle. From a technical point of view it is conceded to be one of the most interesting achievements in the annals of the American stage.

It is known as a studio scene, which means that it is built indoors and had to be specially constructed to secure the desired dramatic effect. It is the largest interior act ever built. The scene is in minute detail an exact reproduction of Ford's theater as it appeared upon this historic occasion. It's rather a curious fact that when Rosal Walsh, playing the part of John Wilkes Booth, was rehearsing the act, jumping from the box to the stage, the spur on his right boot caught in the folds of the American flag just as was the case with Booth, and which may have resulted in the breaking of his leg. In Mr. Walsh's it was accidental as it was with Booth.

SPLendid CONCERT AT M. E. EMORY

Joseph H. Douglas violinist gave a concert at Mt. Emory Baptist church Tuesday evening before a large audience. Mr. Douglas is acknowledged the best colored violinist in the world. He studied in Boston and supplemented this work with several years study in Europe. He fully lived up to his reputation Tuesday evening and his numbers drew forth great appreciation from his hearers. Mr. Douglas has splendid interpretative ability and his execution was superb. Not a little of the success of his numbers was due to the work of Mrs. Douglas as accompanist. The violinist was assisted in the program by several well known local people. Misses Catherine and Gladys Hayden gave piano duet. Mrs. L. L. Kennelbrew gave a reading from the works of Paul Lawrence Dunbar the famous colored poet and Shethy Nicholas sang a baritone solo. The concert was given under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the church. This body of men has promoted a number of interesting programs during the winter months and the program Tuesday evening was a fitting climax to their efforts.

FJNERAL OF MRS. J. M. RING HELD AT CENTENARY CHURCH

Services in Charge of the Pastor, Rev. G. W. Flagg—Deceased was an Honored Resident of This Community for Many Years.

Funeral services for Mrs. J. M. Ring were held at Centenary M. E. church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. G. W. Flagg, the pastor. Hymns were sung by a quartet composed of Miss Clara Ranson, Mrs. Albert Baldwin, A. C. Metcalf and Rex J. Moon. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. E. D. Herald, Miss Edith Johnson, Miss Fannie Grassly and Miss Jennie Grassly. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery, the bearers being, W. C. Howe, A. P. Vasconcellos, A. R. Gregory, John J. Cully, John G. Cully and Ira Patterson.

Mrs. Ring passed away early Saturday afternoon as previously mentioned in the Journal, after an illness of five years, the acute attack which terminated in death lasting for about five weeks.

Mrs. Ring was born April 9, 1848 in Fancy Prairie, Sangamon county, the daughter of Harriet Elizabeth and John C. Howard. She left Fancy Prairie with her parents and for a time made home in Kansas. When the deceased went to Kansas, James M. Ring of this city soon followed and the two were married April 1, 1869. Mr. and Mrs. Ring then came to Jacksonville to make their home, residing for a number of years at 856 South Clay avenue.

The family removed to West Plains, Mo., twelve years ago and it was there that death occurred. Besides the husband, J. M. Ring, there survives a daughter, Pearl, wife of T. A. Ebrey of this city, who was with her mother several weeks before she passed away. Two children died in infancy. Mrs. Ring leaves one sister, Mrs. G. W. Godwin of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mrs. Ring was a woman of strong religious conviction and her life was marked by many deeds of love and works of kindness. In recent years she became a member of the Methodist church. Her life was one of steadfast devotion and her death has been the occasion of sorrow on the part of many friends.

ADD WINCHESTER BLP (city) 1825

"The Wild Rose" was given Tuesday night at the Lyric theatre before a good sized audience and each player did his part in creditable manner. The principal parts were played by Mrs. Fred Neat and Miss Dorothy Hainsfurther. In addition to the play there was a short program of music and readings. Mrs. Nicholas Demareth sang two selections and Miss Wetzel, of Canton gave two readings. Quartet numbers were given by Mrs. M. A. Henderson, Mrs. Ada Lankford, Mrs. W. D. Gibbs and Miss Isabel Henderson.

Mrs. Charles Welch and her mother, Mrs. Bailey, have removed from the south part of town to the residence property in the north part formerly occupied by George Kirkpatrick and family.

John Hawk of Merritt was a business visitor in the city Tuesday. Mrs. Clark Taylor and daughter of Bluffs are guests at the home of Henry Vannier.

A number of cases of measles have been reported and this disease among school children this year seems especially prevalent.
